

It's Good To Be Good

Friends Come First, Living a Lie and Show That I Care are texts about a similar topic.

Which of the following is the best way of summing up what the three texts are about?

- ☐ It's good to be good.
- ☐ It's ok to tell lies.
- ☐ You should be good at school.

Which was your favourite text in the collection? What was it that made it so enjoyable?

Find someone in the class who chose a different favourite. Talk to them about your choice and listen to them tell you about theirs.

Does this change how you think about your favourite text?
