

Co-operation

What heading would you give to this collection of texts?

What does c-operation mean to you?

Which of the three texts did you enjoy the most and why? To whom would you recommend it?

Co-operation

Has reading these texts taught you anything about co-operation, or changed your attitude to anything you might have thought or done in the past?

Which text do you think is most likely to change someone’s mind who finds it difficult to cooperate with others?
