

Explore the theme of transitions

What are the themes that run through all of these texts alongside the notion of transition?

Which of the three texts did you enjoy the most and why? Whom would you recommend it to?

EXPLORE the theme OF transitions

Has reading these texts taught you anything about transition?

In which ways do each of these texts relate to your own feelings about transition, particularly your move onto secondary school?

[illegible]