

Leading Literacy

CPD for excellence in English

Using drama to teach narrative: Unit 5 - Character trials

Key Questions	Notes and Comments	Actions
When do you think character trials might work well within an English unit of work?
Which book characters do you know that would be great to put on trial?
How much preparation would be needed to stage a successful trial?
How comfortable would you be with dedicating time to an extended drama activity?
What language and sentence stems would you need to provide the children with for this activity to be successful?		